Power Road Studios

114 Power Rd, Chiswick, London W4 5PY

At a glance

Bright, high-ceilinged spaces feature exposed concrete finishes and excellent natural light.

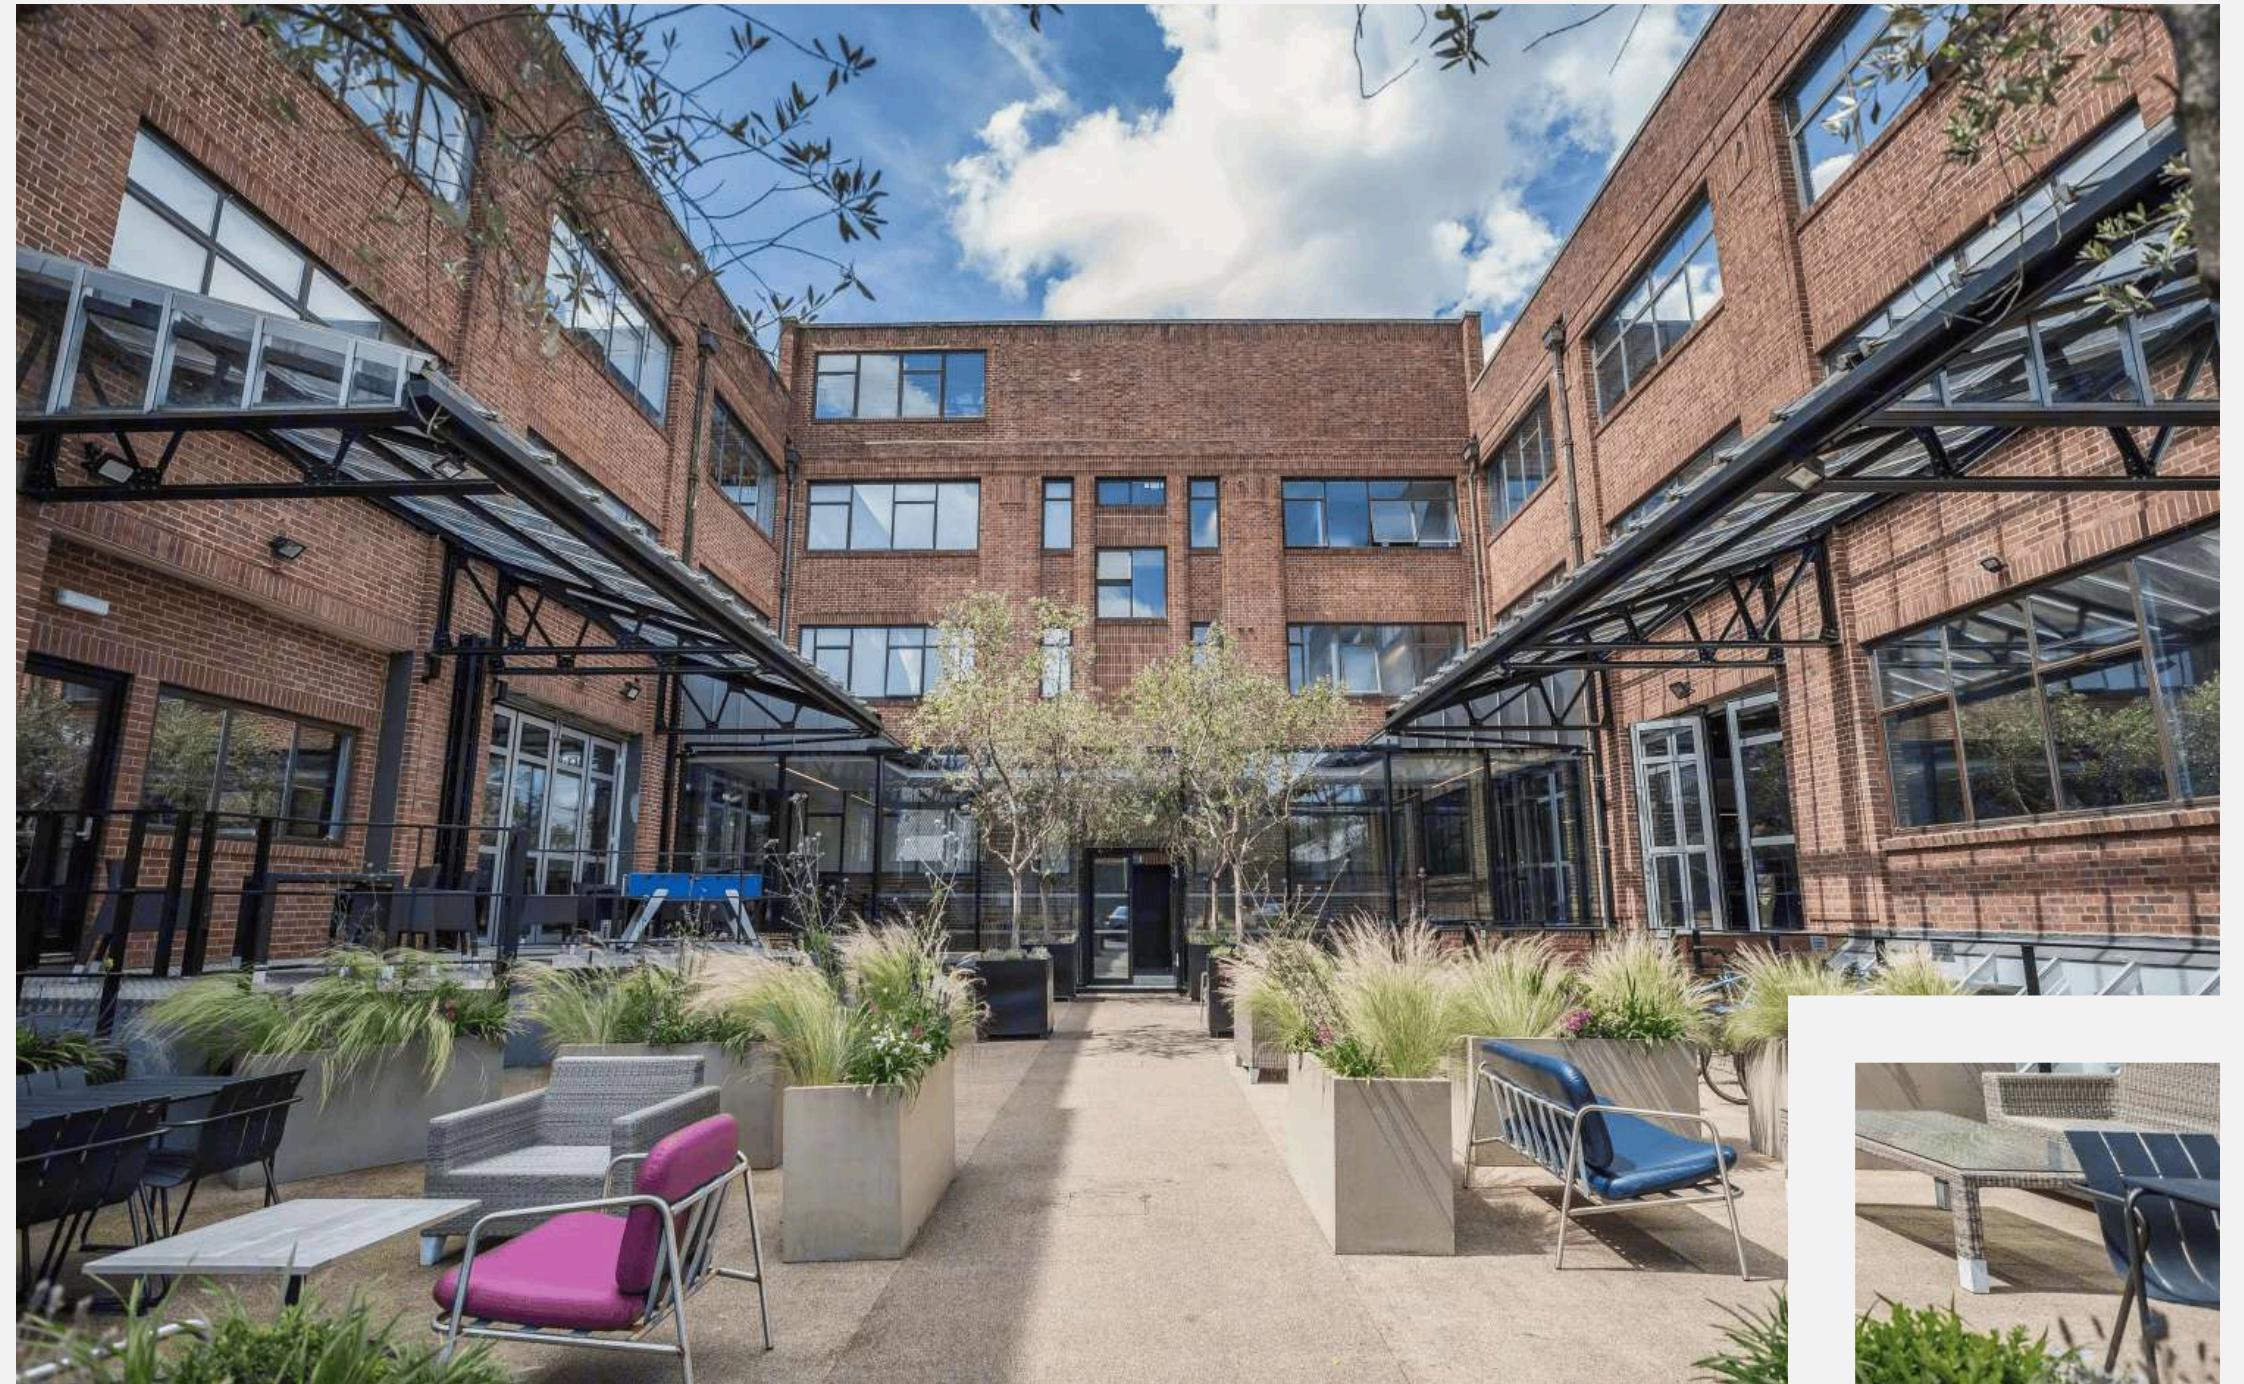

The building has been sensitively converted to retain the feel of its industrial past with exposed steel beams, clean lines and a functional layout, but with all the mod-cons - and technology infrastructure - needed by growing companies.

Prime location

Just moments from Gunnersbury Station (District Line & Mildmay Overground Line) and close to the A4 and North Circular, Power Road Studios offer excellent connectivity across London and to Heathrow.

Spaces at Power Road Studios

Power Road Studios blends industrial heritage with modern design.

Once a Singer sewing machine factory and BBC site, it features exposed steel beams, high ceilings, and raw concrete finishes.

Natural light floods the open-plan studios, creating a spacious, minimalist aesthetic.

Sleek fittings, upgraded lighting, and a landscaped courtyard enhance the workspace, while a refurbished reception adds a professional touch.
